Course Description

This course develops a proficiency in Japanese and familiarity with Japanese culture through practice in the use of the basic language skills (listening, speaking, reading, writing) and acquisition of vocabulary. Prerequisite: JPNS 201 and JPNS 201D. Corequisite: JPNS 202D.

Course Objectives

- Students will read in Japanese.
- Students will write in Japanese.
- Students will understand spoken Japanese.
- Students will use their knowledge of Japanese to analyze the perspectives of historical and/or modern cultures that can be obtained only through reading and/or listening to Japanese.

Student Learning Outcomes

This course meets the General Education Learning Outcome of Global and Cultural Perspectives: Students will have a global and/or cultural perspective and appreciate the responsibilities of citizenship. Students analyze or interpret how ideas are represented or valued in various perspectives or expressions of human culture. This outcome will be assessed in the final exam, in which you will read and/or listen to an authentic text in Japanese and analyze the perspective demonstrated by the text. This will count as 8% of your final exam.

Required Texts, Equipment, Technology

Genki II: An integrated course in elementary Japanese (3rd). The Japan Times. (Be sure to purchase both the textbook and the workbook.

Methods of Instruction

Reading, Writing, Oral Communication (Listening and Speaking)

Course Policies

In this class, you will learn the basic structure of Japanese through reading, writing, listening, and speaking. You are expected to review all materials before class. Additionally, you should complete the practice pages and workbook daily to maintain your knowledge and skills.

Course Assignments

The assignment and quiz schedule will be in the course schedule below. Make up quizzes and tests are allowed only when you encounter special circumstances. It is your responsibility to schedule make up quizzes.

Grading Policy

Attendance rate (10%), workbook and assignments (10%), quizzes (20%), midterm exam (25%), final exam (10% interview, 25% writing)

A 91 or better	C 71-74
A- 88-90	C- 68-70
B+ 85-87	D+ 65-67
B 81-84	D 61-64
B- 78-80	D- 58-60
C+ 75-77	F 57 or worse

The percentage for the quizzes and tests will be determined by totaling.

Attendance Policy

Only UNREPORTED absences, whether it is in-person or online classes, will affect attendance rate in final grading. Email Ryoko for 202 class and Yamaji-sensei for 202D class PRIOR TO class starting for any unplanned absences.

If you have more than 5 unreported absences, 3 points will be deducted from your attendance score for each unreported absence. If the total deduction goes over 10 points, it will start affecting your final score. The same rule applies to Yamaji-sensei's class, and attendance in Yamaji-sensei's class affects the main class's grade.

For example, if you have 7 unreported absences in my class and 7 unreported absences in Yamaji-sensei's class, 12 points (4 absences x 3 points each) will be deducted from your attendance and final score.

If you encounter special circumstances (ex. health related, emergency related, technological problem, COVID-19 related etc.), accommodations (ex. taking class online via zoom, extended office hour) will be provided to continue to make progress during the course but will not compromise the course's goals and learning objectives.

Academic Integrity Policy Statement

As members of the College of Charleston community, we affirm, embrace and hold ourselves accountable to the core values of integrity, academic excellence, liberal arts education, respect for the individual student, diversity, equity and inclusion, student centeredness, innovation and public mission. Congruent with these core values, the College of Charleston expects that every student and community member has a responsibility to uphold the standards of the honor code, as outlined in the Student Handbook, In pursuit of academic learning, you are expected to reference the work of other scholars, and complete your own academic work, while utilizing appropriate resources for assistance. Any acts of suspected academic dishonesty will be reported to the Office of the Dean of Students and addressed through the conduct process. Your adherence to these practices and expectations plays a vital role in fostering a campus culture that balances trust and the pursuit of knowledge while producing a strong foundation of academic excellence at the College of Charleston. Any questions regarding these expectations can be clarified by your instructor.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

The College of Charleston is committed to providing access and inclusion for all persons with disabilities. Students with disabilities who anticipate or experience disability-related barriers in the academic setting should notify their professor and initiate contact with the Center for Disability Services (CDS) to move forward with the college's established accommodation process (email: snap@cofc.edu; phone: 843-953-1431; location: Lightsey Center 104). Students already connected with CDS for academic-related accommodations should share their Professor Notification Letter (PNL) with each professor as early in the semester as possible so that accommodations can be made in a timely manner. The PNL informs faculty of potential course access and accommodations that might be necessary and reasonable. It is the student's responsibility to follow this process each semester.

OAKS

OAKS, including Gradebook, will be used for this course throughout the semester to provide the syllabus and class materials and grades for each assignment, which will be regularly posted.

Inclement Weather, Pandemic or Substantial Interruption of Instruction

If in-person classes are suspended, faculty will announce to their students a detailed plan for a change in modality to ensure the continuity of learning. All students must have access to a computer equipped with a web camera, microphone, and Internet access. Resources are available to provide students with these essential tools.
